5 titles nominated for the
Greenaway Medal 2021

The Smile Shop, by Satoshi Kitamura, £12.99, 978-1-912650-21-7

'This wonderful picture book is packed with beautifully observed illustrations, full of gentle humour and intricate detail, which reflect a multicultural, multi-ethnic town ... This is the book to prove that a smile really is the gift that keeps on giving.' Booktrust

'A refreshing modern fable that's ideal for sharing, reading aloud and discussion with pupils.' School Reading List

The Longest Strongest Thread, by Inbal Leitner, £12.99, 978-1-912650-18-7

'This simply illustrated picturebook is about separation from a beloved grandmother who loves to sew. It is a story of emigration, but resonates for anyone currently apart from loved ones.' Sunday Times Culture

'I must admit this book made me tear up ... The simple, lyrically written story is perfect for sharing with children who can't see their grandparents at the moment.' Irish Independent

Talking is not my Thing, by Rose Robbins, £12.99, 978-1-912650-22-4

'Many early years settings will have experience of caring for children with autism, and for those seeking picture books with positive representations of children with the condition Talking is Not My Thing is a must-buy.' Teach Early Years Magazine

'This is a celebration of diversity and neurodiversity, but also quite simply a lovely picture book to share with any child.' Booktrust

A New Green Day, by Antoinette Portis, £12.99, 978-1-912650-48-4

'Lyrical, funny and elegantly illustrated, it's ideal to reread.' New Statesman

'Both Portis' illustrations and verses are beautifully textured ... Every riddle asks readers and listeners to embrace the great outdoors, to re-experience the familiar with all their senses alert and with a willingness to allow each encounter with nature to reveal unexcepted riches.' Books for Keeps

A Gallery of Cats, by Ruth Brown, £12.99, 978-1-912650-17-0

'In A Gallery of Cats Brown, whose exceptional draughtsmanship makes all her books a feast, visits a gallery with a difference in this picture book about cats and artists. A book to lead readers to 13 painters from Mondrian to Munch and Kahlo to Klimt.' Sunday Times Culture

'This book is a delight to explore from start to finish. It's imaginative, expressive and immersive. There is a perfect synergy between art and text... simply sublime' Good Night to Read
